June 6 WM. DEVAUGHN.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

THE subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself
Mr. PEYTON,
and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Edinburg Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.
The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top linings, plated double outside joints.
I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 25 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to Mr. No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

MATERNAL LOVE.

An extract from Southey's Cure of Elvina.

They sin who tell us Love can die—
With life all other passions fly!
All others are but vanity;
In heaven Ambition cannot dwell,
Nor Av'rice in the vaults of hell;
Earthly these passions of the earth,
They perish where they have their birth.
But Love is indestructible.
Its holy flame forever burneth,
From Heaven it came, to Heaven returneth—
Too oft on earth a troubled guest;
At times deceived, at times oppress'd,
It here is tried and purified.
Then hark in heaven its perfect rest;
It sooths here with toil as I care,
But the harvest time of love is there.

Oh, when a Mother meets on high,
The babe she lost in infancy,
The day of woe, the watchful night,
For all her sorrows all her tears,
An over-payment of delight.

From the Boston Patriot.

BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL.

This day, 17th of June, completes the 43d year since the Battle of Bunker Hill; a celebrated epoch in the annals of our glorious Revolution, when the sons of America determined to be free or perish in the attempt.

The vessel troops of George the 3d with Gage at their head were sent to enslave us, it being what George had planned, and what his corrupt ministry had been for years endeavoring to accomplish—In vain their efforts; although a young people, "just in the gristle," our cause was the cause of freedom. The God of armies was with us, the result was auspicious. By reference to the accounts published in the Cambridge, (Mass.) paper, of the battle, it states, "That from sun-set on the day of Battle, until next morning, wounded regulars were brought over in boats to Boston, (then held by the British) to the amount of at least 500; that thirty died before they had arrived at the hospital; that eighty-four officers were killed and wounded, three of which were field officers, and that the whole killed and wounded amounted to thirteen or fourteen hundred. The loss on our side from one hundred and fifty to two hundred killed and wounded."

Gage in his official letter to the British ministry, observes, "The appearance of the Americans' strength, and the large columns seen pouring in to their assistance, occasioned an application for the troops to be reinforced with some companies of light infantry and grenadiers, the whole when in conjunction, making a body of something over two thousand men, which were landed on the peninsula of Charlestown without opposition, under the protection of some ships of war, armed vessels and boats, by whose fire the Americans were kept within their works. The loss the Americans sustained must have been considerable, from the great numbers they carried off during the action. Near one hundred were buried the day after, and thirty found wounded in the field. I enclose a return of the killed and wounded, (here follows particulars) making a total of one lieutenant colonel, two majors, seven captains, nine lieutenants, fifteen sergeants, one drummer, one hundred and ninety-one rank and file—killed. Three majors, twenty-seven captains, thirty-two lieutenants, eight ensigns, forty sergeants, twelve drummers, seven hundred and six rank and file—wounded."

INTERESTING RELICT.

It is mentioned in the London papers, that the Earl of Vife had presented Mr. Elton, the celebrated tragedian, with the identical Dick which was worn by the Earl's ancestor, M'Duff, in the combat in which Macbeth fell. The weapon had been in the possession of the Earl's family ever since that memorable day.

HEROIC FORTITUDE.

It is a spectacle (says Seneca) worthy of a god, to see a man who is so bold as to march against fortune, and so courageous as to challenge her.

ALEXANDRIA THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1818.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Active preparations are making in various parts of the union for celebrating the forty-third anniversary of our independence in a manner suited to the dignity of the occasion. In the district of Columbia, we learn from the Washington papers, that the citizens of that place have determined to celebrate it with more than usual cheer. In Alexandria, so little has been thought of the subject, that we believe one half of the inhabitants know not whether the day will arrive next week or the week after. We have heard that the Franklin Association only will meet at their hall, and that Mr. James H. Smoot will deliver an oration.

THE MILITIA.

A correspondent, who complains of the apathy of the courts martial in levying fines, thinks he has a right to know how the money thus collected is disposed of. It is certainly due to every militia man to have an answer to this question. The other queries of our correspondent we think proper to suppress. We are not advocates of military tyranny, by any means; but we do believe that if a greater severity of discipline, was enforced on parade days, our militia corps would sooner become in reality, (what they have the name of being,) the safeguard of our country.

Our readers are doubtless impatient for further accounts of Gen. Jackson's movements; but we have nothing further to offer them. No direct intelligence has reached the seat of government from Gen. Jackson's headquarters since he took up the line of march from St. Mark's. We have thought proper to notice this absence of information, to account for the silence we have observed on the subject, since announcing, the other day, the reported capture of Pensacola. This report reached the city from two different sources, remote from each other, and nearer to the scene of action than to this city. We have little doubt of the correctness of the fact of Gen. J's having entered Pensacola; and it is equally probable, if he entered it all, it was by assault, as it is not to be supposed the Spanish authorities would have given up so important a post without at least a show of resistance.

The motives of this step General Jackson's dispatches will disclose. It is presumed such a measure was not in the contemplation of the government, although it may necessarily have resulted from the discretion vested in the commanding officer to take such lawful steps as the safety of the frontier might appear to require. If the Indians in arms against us led the way to Pensacola, there can be no doubt of Gen. Jackson's being justified in following and dislodging them.

LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION.

In New-Hampshire, the number of representatives is about 150—not defined by law.—In Massachusetts the number is not limited, and in their house of representatives, on extraordinary occasions, 600 members have been known to take their seats.—In Rhode Island the number is about 60.—In Connecticut less than 200.—In New-York 156, and can never exceed 150.—In New-Jersey about 50.—In Pennsylvania something less than 100.—In Delaware about 20.—In Maryland 80.—In Virginia 160—and the southern and western states in according to their population, from 60 to 150.—In the New-England states the election is by towns, but in all the other states by counties or districts.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.

It is mentioned in the London monthly Magazine, that William Cobbett has volunteered his services to become the biographer of Thomas Paine; also to edit his works, and adapt them to existing circumstances, by original notes. [Ibid.]

The Raleigh, N. C. Mirror, after announcing the arrival of Mr. Calhoun, Secretary at War, on the 15th inst. observes, "of course it is not yet known which of the places the President may have visited will be selected as the site of our great naval depot; but we understand that the Secretary of War spoke of one plan that had been suggested, which, if it be ever accomplished, will present to the world a most magnificent national work:—This is, erecting a chain of fortifications, of masonry and impregnable construction, from the Horse Shoe to the Middle Ground of the Chesapeake, by which that great bay would be completely protected from invasion by any hostile naval force. If such a thing be practicable, even at an enormous expense, it ought to be accomplished. A retreat would thus be secured for our own squadrons when overpowered, the means of preparing and waiting at any moment of war, a large naval force would be rendered certain, and all the citizens on the navigable waters entering this inland sea would have secured to them the means of extensive water communication with each other. Under such circumstances, even as inland navigation now stands, exchanges could be safely made, by water, between the Juniata in Pennsylvania, and many Virginia and N. Carolina streams."

It appears by the last number of the ANNALS OF THE FINE ARTS, published in London, that there are nine hundred and thirty-one professional artists resident in and near the metropolis.—Of this number there are

- 538 Painters,
- 45 Sculptors,
- 149 Architects,
- 93 Engravers in line,
- 38 In mixed styles,
- 19 In mezzotinto,
- 33 In aquatinta,
- 22 On wood.

Among the Painters there are forty three LADIES. [Charleston Times.]

The fourth and last Canto of Lord Byron's CHILDE HAROLD, was momentarily expected from the Press in London.—Such was the extraordinary admiration of his genius, that not less than four thousand copies had been already spoken. This is indeed, literally speaking, the golden age of poetry. Lord Byron, however, has repeatedly stated, that he had never received, and never would accept any monies arising from the sale of his productions, so long as his circumstances would warrant him in rejecting them. [Ibid.]

From the Baltimore Federal Gazette. We were at first disposed to doubt the truth of the report, that General Jackson had taken Pensacola by storm. Further information induces a belief that the report is probably true. We have also some reason to suppose that the president has positive information of the fact; and that the attack on, and occupation of the place, in that way, was not authorized by any instructions from the executive. It is probable that the Spanish minister has received the information mentioned in an article which we copy from the Democratic Press; and it is more than probable, that some persons at Washington are very much perplexed by the recent occurrences.

PENSACOLA.

We understand that an express has arrived at Washington City, with despatches from the commandant at Pensacola, to the Spanish Embassy. It is rumored—that the despatches advise the minister of the capture of the town and fort of Pensacola by General Jackson—that it was presumed that War had been declared by the U. S. against Spain, and in consequence of this presumption the commandant had issued this proclamation. Since the execution of Arbuthnot, &c. particularly since the arrival of the express, the conference between the Spanish and British embassies were more frequent and of longer duration than heretofore. It is believed that the return of the President of the U. States, is in consequence of these circumstances and conjectures.

We look with anxiety for official despatches from Gen. Jackson, in relation to the storming of Pensacola. We are the more anxious, as reports are industriously circulated of the American troops having suffered severely in the assault. [Dem. Press.]

From the N. Y. Evening Post, June 19.

COUNTERTENIT SILES. It will be recollected that a few evenings since we stated that a notorious counsellor had been detected by the vigilance of our police officers, and a large quantity of bad bills had been found upon him to the amount of about one hundred thousand dollars. A specimen of these bills was afterwards exhibited at the conference house for the inspection of the public. To enable those at a distance, however, to guard against them, we have obtained and here exhibited the following description of them, now in the hands of the police. The person on whom they were found, goes by the name of The Little Doctor, or James Stewart.

SCHUYLKILL BANK NOTES.

A very extensive scheme of forgery, says the Philadelphia Democratic Press, appears to be in operation as respects the notes of the Schuykill Bank. It consists in altering the denomination of the Note. I have now before me what was a five dollar note of this bank, but which now appears to be a fifty dollar note.—Wherever, in the original note, the word or figure expressing the amount occurred (and in the note lying on my desk it occurs no less than six times,) the word or figure is discharged by some chemical process, and the figures '50' or the word 'fifty' is printed in the place. I say printed, because it is manifest that the alterations have been printed on the note from a copperplate engraved for the purpose.

As these forgeries are executed with great neatness and accuracy, and as the signatures are genuine, and the whole of the rest of the engraving is from the plate of the bank, I think it a duty to the public, to caution them, and to point out such appearances as may distinguish the genuine from the forged notes.

On the face of the forged note, wherever alterations may have been made, the paper appears of a whiter hue than any other part of the note. On turning over the note it may be distinctly seen that wherever the alterations have been made, there is a deeper impression than on any other part of the note. There is also an oily appearance on the back, where the alterations have been made.

GEOGRAPHICAL.

The town of Cahaba, which will be offered at public sale on the first Monday of next October, and which will, probably, be the seat of government for the state of Alabama, is situated on the western branch of the Alabama, at its confluence with the river Cahaba. It is distant about 77 miles in a right line from St. Stephens on the Tombigbee, and bears north 49 degrees east. St. Stephens is about sixty miles nearly north of the town of Mobile. The Alabama is a very crooked river; from its confluence with the Tombigbee to Fort Jackson, the distance in a straight line is about 132 miles, but by the river the distance is about 264 miles. [Nat. Inst.]

From the Washington City Gazette.

We are indebted to Mr. Kedzie, who has just returned to this city from Scotland, for the loan of papers from which the items below were taken: they afford a fair sample of the sort of information found in the columns of British papers taken at a random glance, without picking out particular articles; a large portion is generally occupied in detailing trials for criminal offences. It would be well if the proceedings of our courts were more particularly attended to, the criminal and other prosecutions committed within the United States bear no comparison with those of other countries of the same population.

SCOTLAND.

In the northern circuit of England, the multiplicity of individuals committed to prison had increased to such a degree that they cannot be brought up to trial in less than 10 or 12 months, consequently they often lie in jail without being guilty of any offence. Some prisoners at York castle are said to have been waiting three or four years, the judges not having time to try their causes. The real state of the lower classes of Great Britain must be miserable indeed when the accumulation of crimes reach such an extent.

At the Lancaster county jail in England, condemned for various crimes at the assizes, five were executed pursuant to the sentence of the law.

At Newgate, London, about the same time, six unfortunate wretches suffered in the above manner. It is remarkable that two with their last breath declared their innocence of the charges laid against them. Two females composed part of the unhappy group.

A woman near Liverpool was met by robbers; to accomplish their purpose with despatch, and get at her pockets, they cut off her clothes close to her skin, and thus, nearly naked, threw her into a ditch; the cries of murder alarmed the neighborhood, and after a desperate scuffle the monsters were taken.

The proprietors of a light coach, running between Liverpool and Manchester, a distance of thirty six miles, advertise that they perform the route in four hours, including stoppages for changing horses, &c.

IRELAND.

It appears by a report of the proceedings of the House of Commons, that the alarming distemper prevailing in Ireland is partly owing to the window tax: by way of evading it the poorer classes block up their windows so as to exclude the air, and thereby render their houses so many nurseries of contagion, the cause of so many fevers; and it was the unanimous opinion of the faculty that unless their residences were more freely ventilated a plague would be the consequence. As this tax produced 250,000 per annum, the chancellor of the exchequer would not consent to its abolition: a motion to this effect was consequently lost. Twenty pounds penalty is levied when officers are resisted in examining if the law is evaded. The best way to get clear of being buried alive in these miserable dwellings is to join their emigrant brethren in America where they may freely enjoy light and air from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific, without the visitation of a window tax gatherer.

SCOTLAND.

Great efforts are making to effect a rational Parliamentary reform. Meetings are well attended, but the reformers are more moderate in expression than their partisans in the populous districts of England.

From a London paper, May 7.

APPREHENSION AND SUICIDE OF AN OUTLAW.

Some time in January last, a person of the name of George Cowen, a merchant in Great Prescott-street, became a bankrupt, and absconding from his commission, was outlawed. Several of his creditors bearing lately that he was living in great style at Rotterdam, applied to the Lord Mayor for his assistance in apprehending him: and, accordingly, Brand, the Marshalman, was sent over to Holland with his warrant for that purpose. The Batavian Government, however, manifested a decided opposition to the measure, and it was only by the greatest exertion of Lord Clancarty, the British Minister at that Court, that it was at length acceded to. His Lordship was compelled to write home to the English Government, and obtained its sanction to an undertaking, pledging a reciprocal conduct, before the minister of justice at Hague was directed to furnish the necessary authority. This was done on the 15th of last month, at 12 o'clock in the day, & Brand immediately proceeded to Rotterdam, in search of his object, and at five o'clock the same afternoon he met him walking in the street. On being accosted by the officer, he treated the matter with great contempt, and asserted that they dare not take him; but the Dutch authority being shown to him, he made but little resistance, and was taken into custody. The populace, however, appeared alarmed at the execution of a foreign warrant in their streets, and a body of them collected immediately, who showed a disposition to oppose the arrest, inasmuch that the officer found it necessary to get an immediate and strong reinforcement; and it was only then by a constant exhibition of his pistols, that a rescue was not attempted, and the prisoner was lodged in safety. The same night he was conveyed by a strong party, furnished by the Commissariat of Police to the prison at the Hague; and the Governor was directed to let him have every comfort consistent with his safe custody, till the packet should sail. On the morning of the following Wednesday however, the prisoner requested the person appointed to be with him, to procure him a little coffee for his breakfast, and though the man was not away more than five minutes, on his return he found him hanging by his hands to the knob of a small cupboard which was fixed in one corner of the room. He was instantly cut down, but he had accomplished his purpose so effectually that life was totally extinct. On uncovering his neck, it appeared that he had previously made an attempt to strangle himself, his watch ribbon being twisted so tightly round his neck, as to be almost buried in the flesh.

The officers also recovered from his pockets a large quantity of valuable property in cash, jewels, bank notes, watches &c. which Brand has brought back with him, and it seems a law suit likely to take place between the agents under the commission, and those editors, who also were the cause of recovery, as to who shall have the disposal of it. Since this occurrence has taken place, the Commissaire of Police at Rotterdam, has issued an order, enjoining the proprietors of all lodging houses, to make a return every morning of the number, names, and description of their inmates, and this order has been hitherto strictly enforced.

600 acres of Land for sale.
THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equidistant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.
Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES, Alexandria.

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 5 miles of Georgetown, & from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition. For terms apply to PHILIP C. JONES, Esq., in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES.
March 30 tt

Plaster Land.
THE subscriber offers for sale two FARMS, being part of the tract whereon he resides, in Fauquier county, Virginia. One of these farms contains 600 acres, one half, at least, of which is in wood—the other contains 450 acres, upwards of one-third of which is in wood—on the latter are a commodious overseer's house, a new barn, stables, corn houses, and negro quarters, and about 30 acres of well improved timothy meadow. The woodland on both of these farms is covered with a fine growth of red oak and hickory, and the soil, what is denominated first rate tobacco land—the whole of the cleared land is under good enclosures, has had the advantage of a clover lay, and has afforded as strong evidences of its adaptation to the Plaster of Paris, as any land in the state. No land is better watered; both farms being bounded by Broad Run, and having (besides other springs) a never failing stream mill run passing through their centre.

100 Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber's farm, near Piscataway, Md. on or about the 1st day of March, 1818, a dark mulatto man named Nick, five feet ten or eleven inches high, slender made, a little deaf, speaks a little through his nose, has been in the habit of wearing rings in his ears, but may have taken them out to avoid discovery. Said negro Nick has a wife on Mr. Thomas A. Diggs's land, near Fort Washington, and is probably harbored in that neighborhood. I will give the above reward of Thirty Dollars, I taken out of the State of Maryland, and Twenty if taken in the State, more than ten miles from home—if within ten miles of home, Ten Dollars.

S. G. Blanchard.
Stucco Worker, Builder and Architect (from London)
RESPECTFULLY informs the citizens of Alexandria, and the public in general, that he intends carrying on, in the district of Columbia, all the branches of modern, plain, and fancy Building, on the improved English & French plans, at the very lowest prices. Gentlemen in the country who intend building or making convenient alterations, are particularly invited to call at his house at the lower end of Fairfax street. He has engaged Mr. Joshua Simpson, from London, an experienced workman in the carpenter's and joiner's, and others in their respective branches; and hopes from his own knowledge and study of the business in England, to gain the patronage of the citizens of the United States. He proposes to give lessons to a class of young gentlemen twice a week at his house, on the principles and fundamental rules of Architecture,
after the system of P. Nicholson, and other modern architects. Early applicants will have the preference, as the number will be limited. He will continue to give lessons in Painting, on velvet, silk, satin, &c. White velvet, velvet colors, and brushes for sale.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.
IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.
THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.
All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition; so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstract calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.
Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless, whether my own opinions are in dissonance, or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.
The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.
THOMAS COOPER, M. D.
CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small piec letter, and will be published early in the ensuing summer.
II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.
III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.
Subscriptions will be received by

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:
Hamilton's Worm-ddestroying Lozenges.
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as opening with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions; feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and finally, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetites; sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fecid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.
The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
FAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than conclusions of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in easing esteemed desperadoes and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back
Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lameness, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops
For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.
At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.
